

The Wall of Silence

Led by young people for young people, Cambridge House's One Big Community (lbc) is a London wide, youth led coalition committed to ending youth violence.

This event will give young people the opportunity to discuss youth violence with some of London's most influential decision makers and campaigners. It's your chance to share your views on key issues such as how we can build trust and improve relationships between young people and the police.

In true 'Question Time' style you'll be able to direct your questions and points to a panel of high profile figures including: Commander Steve Rodhouse (Metropolitan Police), David Cohen (Evening Standard), Shaun Bailey (Government Advisor) and Duwayne Brooks (MOPAC lead advisor on Stop & Search).

The event will kick off with a Rap Battle themed around stop & search, and Jermain "The Singing PM" Jackman, VOICE UK 2014 contender, will close the debate with a guest performance. Supported by Bite The Ballot, we'll be using an innovative touch-pad voting system to generate live results.
